The Over Players are delighted to present their next show 'The Princess and The Pea'.

A fun pantomime treat for all the family.

Queen Pod (Jamie Tipple) is the absolute ruler of the fruit bowl, while her hushed, obedient husband, King Pod (Harry Ashby), has been successfully reduced to a silent side-dish, with nothing but silly String Bean (Elodie) for entertainment. Every year, the Queen hosts a high-stakes matchmaking competition to find a suitable bride for their son, Prince Pea (Maisey Greenhow). However, her 'meticulous' challenges are secretly designed to crush the dreams of any hopeful contestant. She has rigged the system for years, fiercely determined to keep her precious baby boy a perpetual bachelor.

But the garden is about to get shaken up! The chaotic Wizard Tangerinee (Chris Greenaway) has just executed a juicy plot, kidnapping the original fairy tale royalty, Cinderella-Ella to her friends (Amy Carson). She must forcefully tutor his two unrefined daughters, Jammie Tart (Amelie Werthmann) and Sprout Crumble (Hannah Sagara), in the art of acting like true aristocrats.

Will Prince Pea finally break free from his mother's tightly wrapped shell? Will his eccentric fairy god mother, Spicy Chilli (Lilia Florence) help calm the mayhem? Or could the loud, unhinged, and totally unbothered charms of Strawberry Sorbet (Chloe Wills-Eve) melt the Queen's icy exterior?

In a bizarre world where fruits and vegetables walk, talk, and aggressively judge each other, everyone is dying to know: what scandalous secret is actually hidden beneath that famous, multi-layered mattress?

Directed by Gemma Crosby, produced by Hannah Whiffin, with music and a live band under the direction of Musical Director Mike Bernard, you are sure of a fabulous evening of silly pantomime fun and be up close to all the action!
